HIGH SPEEDS PROVE WASTEFUL—DANGEROUS—Vacationists who cut motor speeds, save money and still travel almost as fast as those who step on it, according to a study made by the Statistical Division of the National Safety Council. Further, it was found that a mere drop of 10 m.p.h. from 65 to 55, cut the chances of a fatal accident almost in half and that a further reduction to 55 made death 3½ times as rare as at 65 m.p.h. The accompanying chart shows that increased cruising speeds are accompanied by high operating costs and fantastic death risks, but in spite of the added risk and cost the actual gain in average speed is quite small.

DISTRICT LIVESTOCK ENTRIES TAKE HONORS AT EXHIBITION

Livestock entries at Edmonton Exhibition caused more interest this year than in former years, due mainly to the higher standards set in animals for better quality and grade.

Cattle formerly brought to Edmonton from eastern Canada were noticeably absent since the foot and mouth disease outbreak in Saskatchewan held in abeyance the competition from distant farms. However, the cattle shown, were of good quality and certainly showed their good breeding when the owners displayed the brightly colored ribbons won in the classes in which they were entered.

Not to be outdone, were the entries of horses and swine, which in turn brought their owners many prizes.

On Tuesday Mr. J. Fox Jr. of Lloydminster, judged the Belgian horses. In the 35 classes entered, Mr. Myron E. Latam of Bremner won 22 prizes. Among these were the grand challenge stut and mare and reserve champion for his senior and junior mares. Mr. Latam also was awarded the trophy from the Alberta Belgian Association for the champion Belgian stallion and mare.

Forty-one classes in the swine entries gave Judge George Harrison, Belle Plaine, Sask., plenty to

The Man and His Program

Making New Men

Without spirit-filled, God-redeemed men there is little or no hope of salvation for man or society. We live in a dynamic universe and the fact that Christ died and rose again is the symbol and the proof that we can die to self and rise to God.

The Bible Today:

Measuring Distances

On The Moon

In general, the study by the astronomers confirms the theoretical refraction tables long established and used by navigators, both military and civilian. One of the astronomers, however, says that the tables of correction for temperature, pressure and possibly the humidity of the atmosphere need revision and it is planned to carry on another study of this kind in the near future. The study just completed is nevertheless a scientific contribution and the measurements taken on the moon may some day prove to be useful to that adventurer who pilots his rocket craft to the moon in search of adventure and a new world.

Wonder Drugs

But even considering the great advances that medical science has made in the past few years, the challenge of finding drugs and serums that will combat other major disease, such as cancer, which kills about 200 thousand people each year, still faces those who are writing medical history. Wonder drugs for the treatment of the common cold, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and infantile paralysis, and others are still needed.

Russian Propaganda

In exploiting and enslaving this weak agrarian nation by imperialist expansion Russian propaganda explains that "the brotherly Soviet Union helps the free workers of peace-loving nations strengthen their national sovereignty and economic independence."

Wanted: New Deal For Municipalities

By EVA K. COOK

Provincial grants to local governments are based on tax schedules. The Municipal Assistance grant is dependent on revenue received from a tax levied on each gallon of gasoline purchased. This is money paid into the provincial government by the same people who are receiving it again in the form of municipal grants.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa,
I met a boy several months ago whom I like very much and he seems to like me. He takes me to the shows and to supper and we always enjoy being with each other.

I thought he was seriously interested in me until a few evenings ago he told me that the girl he had always loved had married someone else recently. He also said that he would never love anyone else as he had loved her and that he was trying to forget her.

This was a shock to me and I do not know what I should do.
Would it be better for me to stop dating him altogether or not?
Do you think there is a chance that he will really forget this girl?

Answer:

If you really like this boy a great deal, I think your best plan will be to keep on dating him

but not to let him monopolize all of your time. Go with other young men but be as pleasant and attractive as you can be when you are with this particular one.

Believe it or not, most disappointed lovers do get over their lost loves although they never think that they will. Give him time and when he realizes that he may lose you, he may find that his affections have changed from his old love to a new one.

Good luck,

LOUISA.

someone had left a parcel on it,

"Pardon me, Miss, but you're sit-embarrassed!

ran out of money. Seeing a man with a jacket like my father, I ran and gave him a hard poke in the money". As he did not look around I poked him again. A strange face turned around and said, "Lay off me, little boy." You can imagine my embarrassment. —S.M.

ELECTION CAMPAIGN IN HIGH GEAR

All Parties Optimistic On Outcome

Optimism was the keynote in the camps of all provincial political parties this week following the nomination of 183 candidates for the 61 ridings at stake in the August 5 provincial general election.

Premier E. C. Manning, at the helm of Social Credit forces seeking a fifth consecutive term in office, was confident his government would be re-elected when the 540,000 eligible voters go to the polls.

In turn, Liberal leader Harper Prowse saw his chances of forming a "forty-fifty" C.C.F. leader, Elmer Roper, as better than E. Roper, was making no election claims, but he appeared sure his party would make important gains in the legislature.

SPEAKERS ON TOUR

All parties turned their "big guns" loose in a series of campaign meetings throughout the province. Premier Manning and most cabinet ministers are traveling up and down the province whipping up support, while Harper is conducting a whirlwind tour of vital points. The C.C.F. is bringing in national leader, M. J. Coldwell, while B.C. leader, Harold Winch arrived last week.

The outcome among political observers was for re-election of the government, but with its top-sided majority in the legislature considerably reduced. As the campaign warmed up, considerable signs of dissatisfaction began to develop, with noticeable irritation among the electorate far more widespread than in the last campaign in 1948.

Wrecked with internal dissension, the Social Credit party has appealed to the voters to spurn election bids of six independent Social Crediters. Referred to by one minister as "soreheads," the independents are expected to split the Social Credit vote to allow possible election of opposition candidates.

WANT MORE OPPOSITION
A bigger opposition has been the rallying call of the Liberal and C.C.F. parties. Liberal leader, Prowse, last week referred to the Manning administration as an "uncontrolled government running wild" due to lack of opposition.

Major issues in the campaign are the gas export question and the handling of municipal financing by the Government.

The Liberals and C.C.F. claim gas export will deprive Alberta of its chance for industrial development. The government contends gas export will have no effect on whether more industry will locate in Alberta.

The government has been most sensitive on the question of municipal-provincial relations. Opposition parties claim promises made by Social Credit to "get the municipalities back on their feet" is proof in itself that the government has mismanaged municipal affairs.

The Liberals and C.C.F. claim that the government has reduced the provincial debt at the expense of municipalities, whose debts have skyrocketed in the past decade. Opposition candidates say the government is forcing higher property taxes and putting municipalities into debt by loans to municipalities to cover services which the provincial government itself should provide according to the British North America Act, which regulates federal, provincial and municipal responsibilities.

Wedding Of Interest

CALAHOO—A bright profusion of gay summer blossoms graced the altar of St. Catherine's Roman Catholic Church, Calahoo, for a pretty wedding in which Miss Yolande Marie Campeau, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Campeau, Calahoo, became the bride of Mr. George Louis Ketchmark, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ketchmark, Eyremore.

Rev. Father Carter assisted by Rev. Father Morrow performed the nuptial rites.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore an exquisite gown of white brocade satin and lace, featuring a fitted bodice, net yoke and long-sleeved sleeves. Her veil, edged with lace, fell in soft folds to the floor from a bonnet headpiece. She carried a white prayer book garlanded with a mauve orchid, yellow sweet heart roses and stephanotis. A one-strand pearl necklace completed her ensemble.

Wearing an identical gown of blue, broad-shouldered Miss Adrienne Campeau was her only bridesmaid. Her blue net chapel veil was caught by a braided net headpiece. She carried a spray of roses, gladioli, carnations and stephanotis.

Mr. Robert Cyr was best man. Ushering the guests to their pews, was Mr. Frank Hughes.

Miss Margaret Waugh played the wedding music. During the nuptial mass, the Calahoo Ladies' Choir rendered the following hymns: "Pans Angelicus," "Hail Heavenly Queen," "To Jesus' Heart All Burning," and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

Following the wedding, a reception for 15 guests was held at Noyes hall.

The bride's table, laid with a white linen tablecloth, was covered with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by lighted tapers and vases of gladioli blossoms.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a black crepe dress with white accessories. Pinned at her shoulder was a corsage of yellow roses.

The mother of the groom was dressed for the occasion in a navy nylon frock with beige accessories and pink roses on corsage. A toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Father Morrow.

For their honeymoon, the bride donned a navy sabardine suit accented with white accessories. Her corsage consisted of red roses.

The newlyweds will make their home at Eyremore, Alta.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Rev. Father Carter, Villeneuve; Rev. Father Morrow, Brooks; Mr. and Mrs. George Ketchmark, Eyremore; Mr. H. Charlton, William and John, Mr. Robert Cyr, Mr. Frank Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Margaret Waugh, Brooks; Mr. and Mrs. S. Ward and Pauline, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward, Leaside; Mr. and Mrs. H. Ward, Redwater; Mrs. G. Ward, St. Oka; Ladd, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. J. Bledau, Iny; Mr. and Mrs. A. Parent, Mr. Paul Sabourin, Clyde; Mr. and Mrs. Probert Borie, St. Albert; and Mr. and Mrs. Andre Borie, Villeneuve.

Community Fair Hints

Now to move to the vegetable classes. All vegetables should be clean and fresh, of medium size or slightly above medium size for the variety. Also keep in mind when selecting vegetables for show that they must be suitable for table use. Oversize vegetables are often coarse and rough, thus lack quality which is an important feature.

To make up an entry for a vegetable table class, select specimens that are uniform in size, shape and color. All specimens should be free from insect injury and blemishes of any kind; these include breaks, bruises and sunburn. Beets, carrots and other roots should be washed free from dirt; leeks and celery may also be washed. Be careful in washing that you do not damage the skin. When we take the vegetables to the show we should take a few extra specimens to replace ones which may become damaged, and with these we can make last minute selections. When making up the display do not include inferior specimens simply to increase the numbers.

The foregoing is just a few hints on showing flowers and vegetables. For more help ask a person who has shown before and I am sure you will find any one of them very pleased to help you.

It is hoped that all people with gardens will show their flowers and vegetables to add to the show and give visitors the pleasure of viewing the beauty of flowers and vegetables grown in your own community.

Prizes already donated for Fair entries are:

1. Silver Cup, for high aggregate — donated by St. Albert Produce Co.
2. Tools for Bird House Contest — donated by Sturgeon Lumber and Bonnevillie Construction.
3. Two Pounds' Chocolates—G. Perron.
4. $10.00—St. Albert Taxi.
5. $10.00 Voucher — Benion's Meat Shop.

6. $1.00 Voucher — Gauvin's Garage.

7. Voucher — Lamer's Red & White.

All donations will be gratefully received and acknowledged.
